

Hartek Power organises free Breast Cancer awareness camp

CHANDIGARH, MAR 7

Hartek Power Pvt Ltd, one of India's fastest growing Engineering, Procurement and Construction (EPC) companies based in Chandigarh, observed International Women's Day by organising a free breast cancer screening and awareness camp in association with the PGI at the anganwadi in Bapu Dham Colony. More than 50 women of the colony were examined and given tips on early detection and prevention of breast cancer by a team of PGI doctors. As part of its effort to generate awareness about breast cancer among women from underprivileged sections of the society, Hartek Power also organised inspirational talks by breast cancer survivors and a street play emphasising the need to identify signs of breast cancer early and take remedial action before it becomes too late.